

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT TELEPHONES

For the information of the public it is deemed advisable to give the essential facts in the negotiations between the Department and the Plant Employees, a limited number of whom have quit work.

The Telephone Companies both to the East and West have issued new regulation and wage schedules for the year 1917, which in substance provide for the same rate of wages as were granted the Alberta Government Telephone Employees in 1913.

The Local Union No. 348 I.B.E.W., of Calgary, made a request for a conference to discuss a revision of our schedule, to which the following reply was given:

Edmonton, April 12th, 1917.

W. Murdoch,
Local Union No. 348, I.B.E.W.,
Box 2181, Calgary.

Dear Sir—We are always pleased to discuss matters respecting the employees of this Department and to voluntarily institute regulations and establish rates consistent with the requirements and the interests of the people of the Province. To this end I shall be pleased to meet such Committee on Monday, the 16th inst.

Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) W. J. HARMER,
Deputy Minister of Railways and Telephones.

NOTE—The date of meeting was changed to 23rd.

After a two days' conference, during which a full discussion took place, the Committee was informed that the Department would issue a new schedule in accordance with the conditions of my communication.

Following this conference, the schedule as printed below was submitted with the following letter:

Edmonton, May 10th, 1917

W. J. Dyson,
Box 2181,
Calgary.

Dear Sir—For your information I enclose a copy of our "Regulations and Wage Schedule," which I have no doubt the employees will greatly appreciate, as the regulations are better and the wage scale higher than those of any neighboring systems to the East or West.

Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) W. J. HARMER,
Deputy Minister.

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT TELEPHONES--REGULATIONS AND WAGE SCHEDULE

1. Eight hours shall constitute a day on Exchange work, ordinary working hours 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., but where requirements of the service demand shift work, any eight consecutive hours (except one hour intermission for meal) shall constitute a day, and such shift hours will be those that the service requires to be filled constantly. An assignment to shift hours shall not be made for less than fourteen calendar days where practicable.

2. Eight hours shall constitute a day on Rural and Long Distance work, ordinary working hours 8 a.m. to 12 m. and 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

3. All employees shall go to and from point of work on their own time.

4. All monthly men who have worked continuously for one year shall receive one week's vacation on full pay of the ordinary time in the second year, and two weeks after two years' continuous service.

5. Where car fare during working hours is deemed necessary by the Department same shall be furnished to employees affected by this Schedule. Where transportation is considered necessary by the Company beyond the 5c limit the Company will furnish same to the employees affected by this Schedule.

6. Overtime shall be computed on the basis of eight hours per day at the standard rate the employee is entitled to in Section 31. All overtime including Sundays and Holidays will be computed at the rate of time and one-half of standard rate of wages paid employees.

7. Holidays will be as follows: New Year's, Good Friday, Victoria Day, Dominion Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas and such other days are observed as General Holidays throughout the Province. (Bank holidays not included).

8. Overtime will only be allowed employees in cases of emergency. Foreman or person in charge must make a written report of particulars and causes to the Plant Chief, who will advise Head Office.

9. Overtime will not be allowed employees assigned to Section or District work, except in cases of extraordinary local or general disturbances caused by storms, fires or floods.

10. Employees held waiting orders or material will be paid at the standard rate and employees relieved from duty during the day (except by their own fault or request or on account of weather conditions) will receive not less than one-half day's pay, and if working more than one-half day will be paid for a full day.

11. Employees requested to report for duty shall not receive less than two (2) hours' pay.

12. Transportation will be furnished or allowed all employees when required in the performance of their duties or when being transferred.

13. Employees resigning or dismissed will not be furnished or allowed transportation.

When services of employees are dispensed with on account of completion of work, transportation will be furnished or allowed to either Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge or any intermediate point on a Railway nearest to where employee was engaged.

14. City gangs working beyond the 5c car limit shall report for work at car line limit at 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

15. Employees dismissed while in the field shall be paid in full for all time due them.

16. The actual expenses of board and lodging will be allowed Inspector, Switchboardmen and Installers when pursuing their duties away from Headquarters.

17. Cablemen will be allowed actual expenses up to and including ten working days when working away from Headquarters.

18. The actual expenses of board and lodging will be allowed Exchange, Rural and Long Distance line employees while en route by train to another point of work.

19. The actual expenses of board and lodging will be allowed other employees when away from their Headquarters upon a temporary job. Ten working days shall be considered a temporary job; more than ten working days will be considered a permanent job, for which no board or lodging expenses will be allowed.

20. Headquarters will be the place where employees are actually assigned for duty, the place from which they receive orders or to which they report.

21. While it is presumed that those in charge of employees to obtain economical results will assign them to the work for which they have trained there is nothing in these regulations which means that employees shall do only the class of work for which they are being employed, nor that certain classes of work shall be performed by only certain classes of men; should, however, an employee be assigned to work which pays a higher rate than that for which he is employed, he will be paid the schedule rate for such work while engaged upon it.

22. Employees will be paid semi-monthly. Wage cheques will be issued and forwarded as promptly as possible upon receipt of payroll.

23. All drawing in of underground cable and laying of conduit will be in charge of a practical man.

24. All switchboard installations and moves shall be handled by a practical man.

25. FOREMAN. An employee having charge of more than Three (3) Linemen, or more than Twelve (12) Laborers.

26. SUB-FOREMAN. An employee having charge of Three (3) or less than Three Linemen, or less than Twelve (12) Laborers.

27. Foremen shall be paid on a monthly basis and no extra pay will be allowed for overtime worked—no reduction in salary will be made for an enforced loss of time, for which the Department is responsible.

ble, except in case of dismissal.

28. On Class A-B-C lines framing and splicing of Poles shall be done by a practical man, who shall be rated as a Lineman, and pole setting gangs shall be under the supervision of a Lineman.

29. Sufficient money shall be advanced to cover employees' expenses when necessary. A married man being moved by the Department from one headquarters to another shall receive transportation for himself and household effects.

30. These regulations apply only to employees designated in Article 31.

Approved:
W. J. HARMER,
Deputy Minister.

The following reply to the Regulations and Wage Schedule was received:

CALGARY, MAY 14th, 1917

W. J. Harmer, Esq.,
Deputy Minister of Railways and Telephones,
Edmonton.

Regulation and Wage Schedule.

Re yours of 10th inst. Regarding the above, beg to state that same does not meet with the approval of the employees affected, and that at a meeting held lately the employees empowered me to meet you to discuss the matter finally and, I trust, to the mutual satisfaction of all concerned.

AS THE BUSY SEASON WILL SOON BE UPON US, I would request that you give this communication your earliest attention, arranging by return mail, if possible, to meet a committee of employees not later than Monday, May 21st next.

Yours sincerely,

(Sgd.) E. D. GUINN.

In compliance with this request the General Superintendent and Plant Superintendent met the Committee in Calgary on May 22nd, when the Committee presented a new schedule embodying the three contentious matters, viz., an agreement with the Electrical Workers; recognition of the "Trade Terms," abolition of the sliding scale, and lastly the acceptance of the agreement as presented, and further refused to even discuss the Regulations and Wage Scale that had been issued by the Department.

On May 29th the following letter was received:

Calgary, Alta., 27th May, 1917.

To the Deputy Minister of Railways and Telephones,
W. J. Harmer, Esq.,
Edmonton, Alta.

Sir—At a meeting of the Alberta Government Telephones Electrical Employees, held May 27th, 1917, it was decided to inform you that unless the Agreement and Wage Schedule as presented to your Officials on May 22nd, 1917, by the representative of the Employees, be accepted by the Telephone Department on or before Wednesday, May 30th, 1917, at 13 h., they will quit work.

Trusting to receive an amicable settlement.

We remain,

Yours respectfully,

Signed on Behalf of the Committee,
(Sgd.) E. A. GARRETT,
814 36th Avenue West, Calgary.
Phone M4262.

E. GUINN, Chairman.

All employees whose duties require them to travel are allowed all their expenses while away from headquarters.

We have contracted all our construction work for several years with very gratifying results, and the question of following out that policy with respect to all our Plant requirements has been under advisement for some time.

Negotiations are now under way, and arrangements about completed, for taking care of our Maintenance Requirements, as a result of which we do not anticipate that our patrons will suffer any inconvenience.

W. J. HARMER, Deputy Minister.

Big Meeting on Saturday Night Gives Its Hearty Endorsation To Candidature of Mayor Henry

Presses Are Delivered by Liberal Candidate for West Edmonton, Hon. A. G. MacKay, Hon. C. W. Cross, and Mrs. W. M. Davidson—Hon. Mr. MacKay Tells of $250 Advertised in Journal Which Could Not Be Found.

"If there are any constituencies that should back up the government for benefits received by reason of its railway policy, they are the three Edmonton constituencies," Mayor Henry said.

"It is almost impossible for any woman to take part in the campaign without being abused, threatened and intimidated by the conservative party," Mrs. W. M. Davidson said.

"I have never known an election where the electors were so misled in a consensus of opinion that the Sifton government is bringing for the good of the common people all over the land," Hon. A. G. MacKay said.

A crowded audience, rousing their voices in enthusiastic and sympathetic attention on the part of those who listened to the great Liberal rally at the First Presbyterian church on Saturday night, gave its hearty endorsement to the candidature of Mayor Henry for West Edmonton.

The meeting started early and was held late, but the audience showed no signs of being tired, and many were loath to depart, a good many of the interest having been throughout. Mrs. W. M. Davidson, Calgary, made a most interesting address in support of the government, and Mayor Henry met with a gratifying reception, while the Hon. C. W. Cross and the Hon. A. G. MacKay listened to with the greatest interest.

Frank Ford, K.C., as chairman, made many timely interpolations, always very much to the point. MacKay scored a very effective when he said that he had sent Campbell with $250 to cover an advertisement in the Edmonton Journal, and could find no trace of the either in the hands of the Conservative headquarters. The money was advertised was put up by unknown person was to be paid in advertisement entitled "A Liberal Education," could be shown to be untrue.

"I will soon it or any other amount if it can," said Mr. MacKay.

Mayor Henry's speech was very good. Mayor Henry, Mr. Ewing is not here tonight, and he had to go down the road and could not attend. The man afraid that we shall have it, but I am sorry, as I did not here.

Henry then asked his hearers to carry their minds back to the fact which existed at the close of the previous night, when the election was made that owing to the election of the Sifton railway the J. D. McArthur Co. had been able to get away with some five million dollars. The said the Mayor, was based on

HON. A. G. MACKAY, who on Saturday offered to cover $250 advertised in Journal to be paid if statements in advertisement "A Liberal Education" could be shown incorrect. Mr. MacKay could find no trace of the money.

This meant that 6,400 acres of land per mile had been increased in value to at least $10 per acre, making a total valuation of $64,000 per mile. In all the railways meant $264,000 of added value to the wealth of the country.

"Even if we had to pay $20.00 per mile for this," remarked the mayor, "it would mean a pretty good bargain."

Another little factor in the development of the country by the railways, and pointed out by the mayor, was that every settler was supposed to be worth at least $5,000 to the province as a producer of wealth, and at the present time there was a stream of settlers, greater than had ever been known, going into the northern part of the province.

could find nothing wrong. The opposition, emphasized the mayor, had had all the opportunity that they wished to go into the accounts of the railways, but never yet had they been able to find out anything which they could attach mismanagement to the government. Anyone who told them that the government did not allow any inquiry into the railways was not speaking the truth.

"The opposition are making political capital out of misrepresentation of the facts," said the mayor, alluding to the so-called charges leveled against the government in connection with certain departments. These charges, added the mayor, were all vague, indefinite, and Mr. Ewing had stated in the house that they were not made against any member of the government. The premier had offered to pay through the attorney-general's department for any prosecution that the opposition liked to undertake, yet nothing was done, for the reason that they had nothing to bring forward.

Debt of the Province. The speaker then made allusion to the debt of the province which stood at twenty-nine millions, out of which only sixteen millions were a direct charge on the province, and against there were assets totalling $126,000,000.

In conclusion, Mayor Henry said that he did not know what he had personally to commend himself to them, but he said the position that he had occupied as their mayor. Some of his (Continued on Page Six)

ALBERTA'S SOLUTION IS AN IDEAL ONE

Mayor Henry Quotes Tribute of London Daily Mail on Soldiers' Representation.

The opposition is raising a great hue and cry about the government depriving the soldiers across the seas of the right of franchise at this election, and severely condemning the policy of providing them with direct representation in the legislature, but it is regarded by the London Daily Mail as the ideal solution of the problem with which it deals, and one which may be initiated with advantage by the British government.

"If, says this paper, 'the country wishes to give the forces a political articulation that is real and not sham, it will make a leap out on the Canadian book.' The government of Alberta has recently enacted a bill providing for two members to represent the soldiers on service, to be nominated and elected by the soldiers of the state in England, Belgium and France. Unless we give our fighting forces representation on this basis, the mere granting of a vote will remain a hollow fraud, serving only as a bait to our national conscience."

Parliamentary Conservatives seek to ferment agitation against the government by declaring that Alberta soldiers have been disfranchised because provision has not been made to enable them to cast their votes for the particular candidates who have been nominated in the constituencies from which they come.

Procedure Impracticable. They do this by knowing such a procedure is impracticable, and that Alberta is first among the provinces to display genuine concern to give the soldiers effective representation in the legislature. The Bowden government in British Columbia made an attempt to provide the machinery which would enable soldiers in England and France, which would be provided in their home constituencies, but now it fails at its purpose may be judged by the fact that the 30,000 soldiers from British Columbia hardly more than 4,000 were present at the provincial elections have been held since the outbreak of the war in which no effort was made to give the overseas soldiers representation and no complaint was made because they were ignored.

In August, 1915, there was a provincial election in Manitoba, under Liberal auspices. The month later there was a provincial election in Prince Edward Island, a Conservative government seeking re-election. Last year there were provincial elections in Nova Scotia and Quebec. This year a Conservative government in New Brunswick was responsible for a general provincial election.

No Complaints Before. "In not one of these five provincial contests had overseas soldiers hailing from those provinces, an opportunity to vote. Moreover, there was not a whisper of complaint from anybody that the soldiers were thereby victims of designing government. It was recognized by all that the inability of the overseas soldiers to vote was a regrettable incident of the war. Nobody was to blame."

To the Sifton government belongs the credit of having not only devised a plan which will give the soldiers a vote which will be effective and clearly defined, establishing their position as direct representation in the legislature, but it should also be greatly assisting the legislature in dealing intelligently and satisfactorily with the many problems that must materially affect the interests of the men who have risked their lives in the service of the state.

CONSCRIPTION SUPPORTED BY TRAVELLERS

Convention of Grand Council For The Prairie Provinces Closed On Saturday.

After passing resolutions in favor of conscription and calling for an amendment of the election laws to enable travelers and others similarly circumstanced to register when absent from a constituency on registration day and electing and initiating their officers for the ensuing year, the Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta grand council of the Travelers of America closed its convention in the city on Saturday afternoon.

The proceedings closed about 4 o'clock, and the visiting delegates were taken on a motor tour around the city, and also paid a visit to the university buildings. All were extremely pleased at the visit to the city and the reception given them by the Edmonton council.

Registration Amendment. A resolution calling on the provincial and Dominion governments to pass an absent voters' law enabling commercial travelers, train men, soldiers and sailors and others to be able to register their votes when outside a constituency received the unanimous approval of the council.

The grand council also went on record as approving and welcoming the entry of the United States into the war on the side of the entente allies, and it also expressed itself in favor of conscription in the Dominion.

Twenty-four members were initiated on Saturday evening.

Elections. The elections resulted as follows: Grand councillor, Bro. W. S. Gray, Edmonton; grand junior councillor, Bro. J. A. Gillespie, Moose Jaw; past grand councillor, Bro. W. C. Bell, Regina; grand secretary, Bro. H. A. Knight, Regina; grand treasurer, Bro. O'Neil, Calgary; grand conductor, Bro. H. F. Moulden, Winnipeg; grand page, Bro. C. G. Davidson, Edmonton; grand sentinel, Bro. W. Heslop, Lethbridge; grand executive (for two years), Bro. J. E. McRobbie, Winnipeg; Bro. H. W. Laird, Laird, Ottawa; (for one year), Bro. T. D. Osborne, Saskatoon.

Representatives to supreme council.—Bro. S. S. Savage, Winnipeg; Bro. J. H. Murphy, Winnipeg; Bro. Agnew, Winnipeg; alternates, Bro. McEwan, Winnipeg; Bro. Clay, Edmonton; Bro. Barrett, Winnipeg.

The degree of past councillor was conferred upon Bro. S. S. Savage, of Edmonton, Bro. J. H. Murphy, of Winnipeg, and Bro. L. L. Paulin, of Brandon, and a jewel was presented to Bro. Colquhoun, who had the degree conferred last year, but did not then receive his jewel.

HONOR PAID TO EDMONTON WAR VETERANS

Distinguished Conduct and Military Medals Presented to Ptes. Smith and Prosser.

The official presentation of the distinguished conduct medal to Pte. Alf. Smith and of the military medal to Pte. W. Prosser, bestowed by the king for gallantry in the face of the enemy, which took place on the old high school grounds, College avenue, Saturday night, was an impressive event and attracted an immense and enthusiastic concourse of spectators. It was a distinctive military affair, and all the military organizations of the city were in the parade with the exception of the mounted police, whose scarves, which were missed among the ranks of khaki, it was virtually a dedication of the recreation grounds, which have been turned over to the army, and the school board. At 8:30 o'clock the procession, headed by the veterans, marched on to the field.

Veterans in the Van. The veterans, under the command of Major F. W. W. Van, and also Major Justus Wilson, O. C. of the special service company at Calgary, recognition of the fact that Ptes. Smith and Prosser were 49th battalion men. The other 49th veterans were also by courtesy given the right of the line, although the returned men included soldiers who had belonged to many other battalions who had made a name for themselves that will never be forgotten. Then came the 10th Cavalry, Dragoons, in their khaki uniforms, under Major A. E. Hopkins. After them the 101st regiment, Edmonton Fusiliers, looking very business-like in their service khaki, under Lieut.-Col. P. A. Osborne, the school cadet corps, the first battalion (high school) under the command of Lieut. A. J. Watson and the second battalion (public school) under Lieut. E. J. Clayton. The Reserve Militia, New boys and 101st regiment bugle bands furnished the music.

Lieut. Governors Orator. The military were drawn up in hollow square. After the bands had played four bars of the national anthem, Col. George Macdonald, D. O. C. of Military District 13, made a brief speech in eulogy of the deeds of the two soldiers. His Hon. Lieut. Gov. Brett then delivered an oration dealing with the deeds of the Canadians and with the war in general. Colonel Macdonald pinned the medals to the tunics of Ptes. Smith and Prosser, after which Col. Osborne and Primrose, heroes, cheers which were given with a will.

The various units then proceeded to their quarters, after a short halt through the business part of the city. The school boys, who made their first public appearance of the year, 700 strong, made a specially fine appearance and were greatly commended.

DIED

RAPPE—Emmy Rappe, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rappe, living one and one-half miles south of the city, died Sunday, June 3rd, aged 3 years. Funeral Monday, June 4th, at 2 p. m. from the family residence; interment at Mount Pleasant cemetery. Wainwright & Jackson are in charge of the funeral.

The proceedings closed about 4 o'clock, and the visiting delegates were taken on a motor tour around the city, and also paid a visit to the university buildings. All were extremely pleased at the visit to the city and the reception given them by the Edmonton council.

NORTHERN ALBERTA NEVER IN BETTER SHAPE FROM FARMING STANDPOINT THAN AT PRESENT

Seeding is About Finished and Considerable Breaking Has Already Been Done for Next Year—Special Reports Compiled for The Bulletin Give Crop Conditions in Northern Part of Province—Seeding is Further Advanced Than in Manitoba.

Optimistic reports continue to come from the grain fields round about Edmonton, and there is prospect of prosperity continuing not only for 1917 but also for 1918; for now that seeding is almost finished the farmers are looking ahead and with the foresight of the pioneer are laying the plans of their preparedness campaign for still larger area in grain in 1918 than ever before in the history of Alberta.

Though the few cold nights recently caused ice to form on the watering troughs in some of the districts, except the barley, and there is plenty of time for barley yet. The farmer, who sows his green feed later, kills the weeds in the meantime.

The plentiful rain report that the use of tractors and larger machinery has a tendency to enable the farmers to work a larger acreage with less manual labor and that has helped overcome the labor shortage. The fact that the Massey-Harris and other agencies report the increased sale of land working machinery leads them to count on a greater demand for harvesting machinery this fall owing to the increased acreage.

Never Better Financially. Manager Baker of the Massey-Harris Co. reports that the farmers of Edmonton and surrounding districts were never in better financial condition and that this is due largely to the solid business foundation developed by the year after year success of mixing farming. He has found that the collections in the territory handled from the Edmonton office of the Massey-Harris Co. are exceedingly satisfactory. This company finds an increasing demand for the spring tooth cultivator this year which is for some purposes replacing the disc as more and more of the land is being broken up and cultivated. By using it the farmers are fighting the weeds and so tending to raise more grain per acre. The higher price of grain makes it well worth while for the farmers to spend more labor in cultivation or (Continued on Page Four)

RICE ST. MARKET SATURDAY WAS BIGGEST YET

Popularity of Market Last Few Weeks Is Growing With Every Saturday.

The Rice street market, building and sheds were far too small to accommodate the large number of farmers, gardeners and poultrymen who attended Saturday's market. The business was the biggest in the history of Edmonton.

The brick house was filled, both sides of the frame shed were filled and still the wagons of the farmers and producers were ranged along both sides of the cinder path clear back to Elizabeth street.

Business was fairly brisk, considering the large supply offered. Several market gardeners had fine displays of plants and flowers. Potatoes were plentiful, but the price held firm. Butter and eggs were also plentiful, but the price of both held at from 35 cents to 40 cents, according to quality. Rhubarb, roots and bundles of rhubarb were offered for sale by several. Chickens and fowl, both alive and dressed, were also offered and the trade in poultry was brisk. A novel feature was the offering of balsam evergreen trees about four feet high for fifty cents each.

JUDGE DECIDES FATHER MUST BE SUPPORTED

Justice Hyndman in the High Criminal Court on Saturday morning dismissed the charge of criminal neglect against Steve Chernohuz and his mother, Mary Chernohuz. The charge arose from alleged bad treatment by the two of the latter's husband, who is over seventy years of age. With his wife and three sons the father came to this country several years ago and took up a homestead and recently made over his homestead to his wife, Mary. He claimed that they did not feed him enough. Justice Hyndman ruled that the father must be supported by the son but must not live with him.

ARE ACCUSED OF HAVING JUMPED C. P. R. CONTRACT

Men Were Arrested on Warrant by Provincial Authorities—Magistrate Undecided

To answer charges of jumping their contract with the C. P. R. Mike Oreschuk and his son, Alex, and Metro Haureschuk appeared in the police court Saturday morning. They were arrested on a warrant issued by the provincial police, and on account of this Gordon Winkler, their counsel, registered an objection. He also objected to the three of them being charged on one information as they signed separate contracts. His objection was sustained and the case against Mike Oreschuk was proceeded with. However, Magistrate Barclay ruled that he would treat the other two as if new informations had been made out. Their counsel pressed for their dismissals.

The three men went to work for the C. P. R. near Wetaskiwin and after working a short time they left. The contracts signed were supposed to bind them to five months employment. They said they wanted to go on homesteads.

Magistrate Barclay stated that he was not sure as yet whether this was a Provincial or Dominion matter. To save time evidence was taken before the points of law raised by the defense were settled. The defense counsel argued that as the foreman did not object to them leaving they were perfectly within their rights. The case will come up again on Tuesday morning.

"The Pulse of Life" is one of Rex Ingram's best productions. Ingram is one of the best directors of the present day, and in handling E. Magnus Ingston's story, "Humanity" for its screen picture, he has demonstrated that he was able to display to best advantage his producing talents. Rex Ingram has contributed a number of very successful Bluebird pictures, among them being "The Great Problem," "Broken Fetters," "The Chances of a Pawn," and "Black Orchids."

"SUBMARINE EYE" HERE
FIRST TIME THIS WEEK

Burkhardt Tennant and Chester Barnett are the featured stars in "The Submarine Eye," the latest and greatest undersea film yet produced. It is a very interesting picture, twice daily for the first time in Canada, by the Williamson Brothers, originators and sole producers of submarine photoplays.

Mr. Barnett, who has been seen here in scores of pictures, is the star of the new "Law of Compensation," which was exhibited here two weeks ago, has a role to play in the new picture, "The Submarine Eye," and is also appearing in the picture, "Facing dangers new to screen players."

And Miss Tennant, who peers down the length of the tunnel from the submarine, and gets its title, and seen Barnett trapped by the treasure chest, said: "I knew Mr. Tennant was in the picture from the very previous to reaching the treasure chest. I had seen a huge shark moving around in it, and when the lid of the chest fell on my bare hands, the look of horror I saw registered on my face was, indeed, genuine. Of course, I knew he would be rescued, nevertheless, I heaved a sigh of relief when I saw Buller, the native diver, lift the cover and start him on his journey to the bottom."

"The Submarine Eye," which is being presented twice daily, 2-3 and 8-30 this week, is the first picture ever produced below the surface of the sea.

On the matter of equal suffrage the professions of the Alberta party. Only recently two members, the Conservative and one Liberal, had introduced two resolutions urging an effect, federal franchise for the women of Canada, but the government would make no pronouncement in the issue. "I have reason to believe, however, that if the Dominion election is not decided upon soon the rights will be given to women to vote. Now the only place where women do not exercise the franchise is where they have been given the rights by Liberal administrations." The women's suffrage act of Alberta, as thought one of the most forward steps ever taken by any provincial government, and it was one of the best.

How the great agricultural resources of Alberta had been promoted and developed through the means of beneficial legislation by the Liberal government on behalf of the farmer was well dealt with by the member for Strathcona. The direct legislation measure showed that the government was closely in touch and in sympathy with the times. The department of agriculture, he also pointed out, was recognized even by the eastern Conservative leaders as being the best administered in Canada. The legislation brought into effect through this department was the most advanced of any province and even of the majority of states in the American union. The agricultural schools were of incalculable worth to the farm boys and girls of the province. The demonstration farms were of immense value to the farmers and to the interests of agriculture. It was claimed that agriculture didn't pay? Why should they pay in reality? Was it supposed that education must pay expenses out of revenue? The public schools didn't pay either, but no one would suggest that they were not worth the price. Mr. Douglas as a pioneer of the west referred with special emphasis to the farm machinery act, farm loan act and the cow bill, measures of vast importance to the farming districts of the province, and particularly the districts remote from railways and market.

Premier's Fine Reception
Premier Sifton got a fine reception when he was introduced. "I am pleased, said he, that at last the men and women of Alberta can come to political meetings and that there is now no political distinction between man and wife. In other campaigns we have not had many women in the audiences, and it was the custom of some speakers to refer to 'many of the fair sex' presents as an indication that they were taking sufficient interest in the election issues to help influence the men who cast the ballots. Now the women were turning out to the meetings in great numbers, and with the feeling of equality with the men. It is a distinct advance and a proper advance that women may go to the polls and help directly with the government of the country."

Mr. Sifton paid his respects to Mr. Montgomery. If the men go to the candidate 500 of a majority in the by-election three years ago, it is safe to say that the women will at least duplicate this plurality.

"Down in the south country the opposition are bringing up all sorts of issues in the campaign, and even take credit for having sat still and allowed the Liberals to pass good acts. The latest move is for sympathy. Mr. Michener before a 'woman only' meeting at High River begged their sympathy to see that he was given a chance to show what he could do in the legislature, this opportunity never have been extended by the Liberals. Whatever we Liberals are doing we certainly are not appealing for sympathy. It is easy for the opposition to make promises when they have no chance of obtaining power and being expected to carry the promises into effect. For my part I take it as an honor to make any pre-election pledges and as a private member and as a member of the government never have done so, because it would be also an honor for a government to carry out its pledges. Good legislation if its own record showed that it was of this legislation had been introduced in the past. Unless we in Alberta can appeal to the people on what has been accomplished we have no right to appeal at all."

A Policy of Dishonesty
So far as concerned the administration of the government's departments, he had never been shown that of the millions borrowed and spent that one dollar has been misappropriated and wrongfully spent. But, of course, the worthy financiers on the opposition would not stand for any more axes. For instance, it was claimed at first that the wild land tax should be based on area and not value. Mr. Michener advocated this in the legislature, but did not dare mention it on the campaign platform where farmers would soon be up in arms against speculative lands. Near cities being allowed to escape with the same payment that vacant areas. The little value would have to pay. This was proposed by the opposition that $300,000 raised by this tax be handed over to the municipalities. Last session it was urged that this $300,000 be turned over to build municipal hospitals.

"Although the scheme is so glibly put forth by the opposition, there seems to have been no system yet discovered which would permit the same money being spent three times. We gave this money to build roads, bridges and otherwise improve the rural districts. If Mr. Michener could not fully advocate a plan to spend a dollar and still have it to spend the next day he will be welcomed by none more than the housewives of this country. The Liberals might as well keep out and let him and his party do the business of the province," declared the premier amidst laughter.

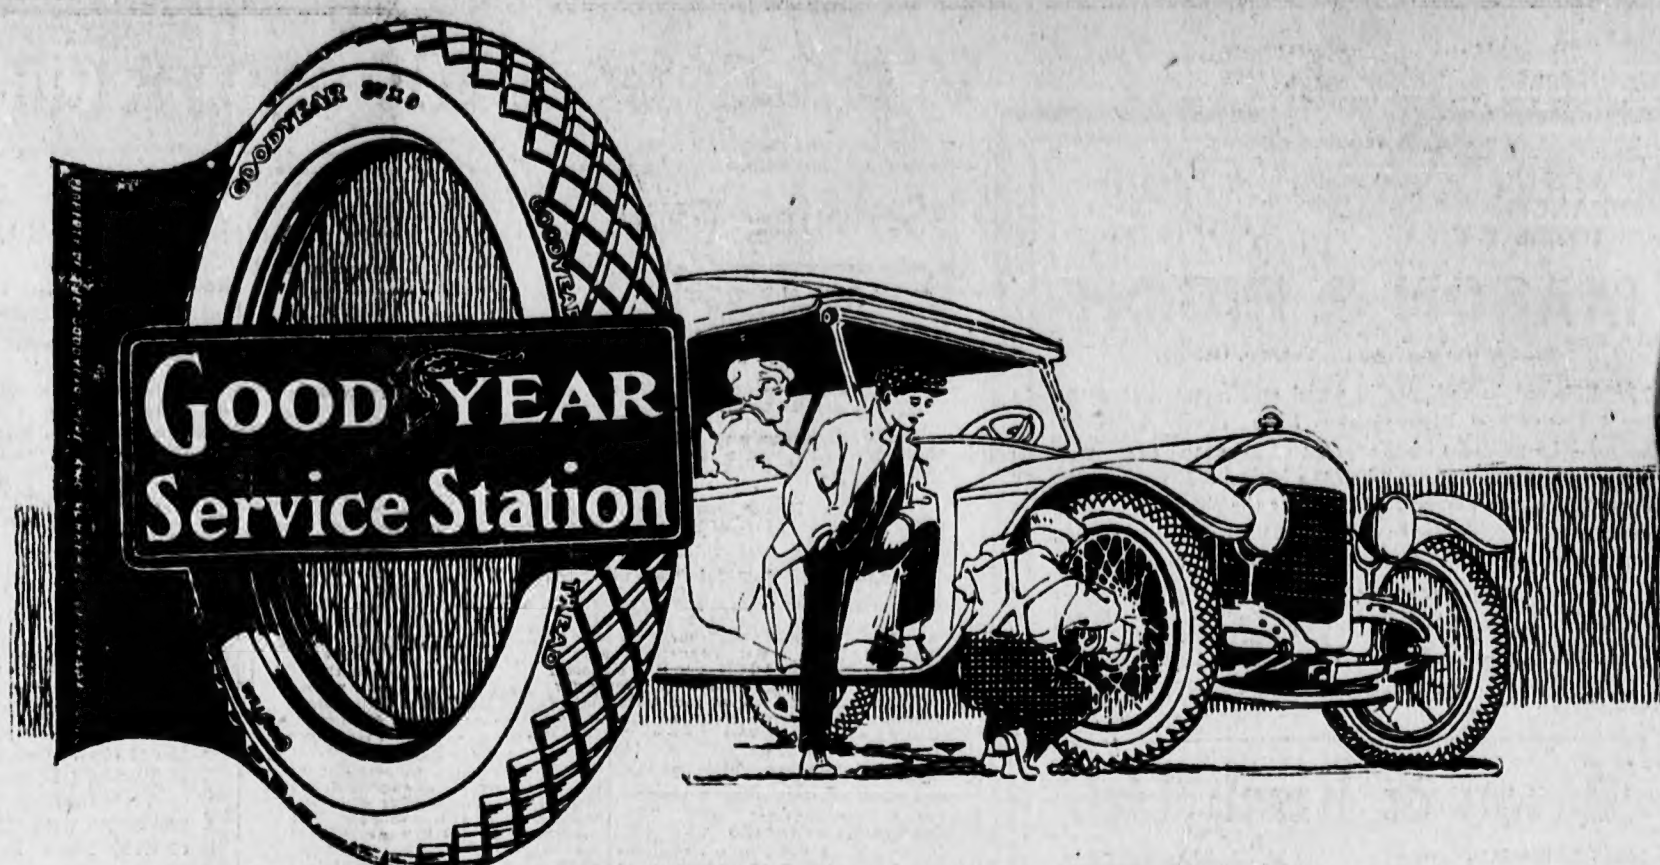

Tories' Double Dealing
The premier went on to refer to the two policies which the Conservatives have in the campaign, one for the north and another for the south. The Liberals being restricted to one policy for all the province might be temporarily handicapped but he believed the advantage would be theirs in the end. For instance in the south Dr. Blow, who though never helped in the arduous work of railway construction was a railway expert of position, and who was annually reducing the estimated cost of railway building so that farmers might be able to have a line to every barn, being heralded as a national figure by a section of the Conservative campaigners. Only a few nights previously T. M. Tweedie had referred to Dr. Blow in this way: "A vote for Dr. Blow is a vote for the British Empire and a vote to bring about a speedier termination of this terrible war." The next day the Calgary Herald took up the refrain in a typical flag-waving editorial.

"So now we realize that the existence of the grand old British Empire, of which we are so proud to form a part, and which has withstood the struggles and assaults of ages, depends upon the election of Dr. Blow in Calgary," said the premier. "It is a sad commentary on a great party," he went on, "that the war should be used as such a pretext to endeavor to gain votes, when we know that the government in Alberta has nothing to do regarding the conduct of the war."

Enfranchisement Alliance
Mr. Sifton dealt earnestly and vigorously with the opposition cry against the enfranchisement of women. "Men who have come to our shores and as legal abiding citizens become accepted as legal British subjects have as much right to vote in the affairs of this country as you and I have," he declared and the sentiment was heartily applauded. "It is no new agitation on the part of the Conservatives for they have ever been noted as being unalterably opposed to giving the vote to anyone who refused to vote Tory."

Claiming that the opposition saw it first the Conservatives would give no credit to the government for extending the franchise to women. The fact remained that the Liberals had given the measure, and on the other hand while no credit was given the government from the opposition for the prohibition act the granting of direct legislation previously allowed the people to bring the change into effect.

"We don't ask for praise if you send us back supporters," said the premier. "We are willing to keep on doing business along the same lines and without flattery if the people so de-

Rather Than Do It Yourself

There are many troublesome odd jobs about any car. Small jobs, necessary jobs, messy jobs—jobs that try your patience, take up your time and soil your clothes. At times they are apt to make motoring a drudgery rather than a pleasure. You are tempted to neglect them—to your cost.

Whether you measure tire service in the dollars saved, or in the comfort and convenience secured, you will find the Goodyear Service Station Dealer an inestimable boon.

Upon him rests the responsibility of giving a broad and satisfying service to all Goodyear users—which is service far beyond that you have commonly known.

For he has taken the Goodyear oath of allegiance. He has joined the army of a thousand Goodyear men who throughout the length and breadth of Canada have linked themselves together to help you and every motorist get bigger returns from your investment.

Each link in this vast coast-to-coast chain of co-operative service-to-consumer endeavor has been forged through an unbounding faith in the goodness of Goodyear products and the rightness of Goodyear methods.

They work beneath one emblem—the familiar sign illustrated herewith.

Look for this emblem along every road. It signifies a willing, prompt service. It betokens expert advice, skilled work backed by successful experience. It indicates a man who aims at increasing his business by giving greater service.

It will be well for you to use his service, to listen to his advice, which has money-value for you. Rather than do the following necessary things yourself, let him show his willingness to be of real help:

He will advise you of the right size of tires for the load you carry, to guard you against the danger of overloading.

—tell you what air pressure best suits your needs, and so eliminate the dangers of under-inflation.

—test your tires for air pressure (and many will put in free air).

—inspect your wheels for alignment.

—inspect your tires for tread-cuts, stones, bruises, and other injuries. He will provide the remedy and advise you as to prevention.

—explain to you the value and use of Tire-Saver Accessories, and provide you with the Goodyear Tire-Saver Kit which contains all the equipment necessary for making pairs on the road.

—explain the necessity of selecting good tubes, and their value in saving your time.

Many Goodyear Service Stations will gladly:

—test your battery, and add distilled water when needed.

—fill your radiator.

—raise or lower your top as the weather demands.

—examine your springs for broken leaves.

—suggest the proper grade of oil or gasoline for your car and the work it does.

—drain out old oil every 800 or 1,000 miles, if you wish, and add fresh oil.

An End To The Curse Of Wearing Worthless Trusses

No More Rupture Troubles 60 Days Trial To Prove It

You Don't Have to Risk A Penny. Here is something absolutely guaranteed to keep your rupture from coming out. And you can try it sixty days—make a thorough, prove-it-yourself test—without having to risk a penny.

If it cannot be made to keep your rupture from coming out, or from bothering you in any way—then it won't cost you a single cent.

The Only Thing Good Enough To Stand Such A Test

You know as well as we that you can't tell anything about a truss or anything else for rupture merely by trying it on. That's the worst of going to a druggist or local truss fitter.

A truss or so-called "appliance" may seem all right when you first put it on and afterwards find it a nuisance and a hindrance to your work.

The only way in the world you can make sure of exactly what you are getting is by a 60 days' trial—a thorough day-after-day test.

And our guaranteed rupture holder—the famous Clute—is the only thing of any kind whatever for rupture that you can get on sixty days' trial, the only thing good enough to stand such a long and thorough test.

Something Nothing Else Does

The Clute is so utterly different from anything else for rupture that it has received eighteen separate patents.

Just write for our free book and find out everything you want to know. Full of facts never before put in print. Cloth-bound—104 pages—20 separate articles—32 photographic illustrations. Will save you from being fooled and save you from wasting money.

Explains why elastic and spring trusses are a curse to you. Why they are the rupture man's worst enemy—why the law should stop their sale.

Shows why operation is always dangerous. Why, if a man manages to get well from the operation, he often has to keep on wearing a truss.

And it tells all about the famous Clute Automatic Massaging Truss, how you can try it sixty days and how little it costs if you keep it.

re. We are willing to give ear to all suggestions and interests who show that they have studied proposed legislation."

Hillock's Insult
S. B. Hillock's reference in Calgary to Mrs. McClung and Mrs. Davidson having the "brazen effrontery" to speak in Calgary drew bitter remarks from the premier who said that never in his thirty years residence in the west had he seen women so insulted. He hoped it would be another thirty and more before another incident of the kind should occur. The women had been given the franchise for the purpose of using it to not only vote and express opinions but to appear on political platforms on an equality with men. He referred to Mr. Hillock as the championable long distance speaker of the province and a seeker after new records—that of slandering women.

After dealing with the charges of exorbitant travelling expenses of cabinet ministers, as thrown broadcast by the opposition, Mr. Sifton told his audience that so long as they were in power the government would continue to spend money in the interests of the people and would continue to do this without going into bankruptcy. The time would come however, when increased taxation would have to be introduced by any government and he knew that when these heavier burdens would have to be met they would be met, and with the realization that the expenditures had been in the public good, and that value had been received for every dollar expended. He predicted that the population of Alberta would double in another seven years and that within that time if the Liberals continued in power there would be a telephone system second to none connected with every farm so far as possible, and railways would be within reasonable reach of every granary.

friends thought that it was on account of the experience in that position that he would be able to serve them in the wider sphere of action. To this he would say that he would always serve their interests as citizens of Edmonton to the utmost so far as responsibility to the province would permit.

Hon. C. W. Cross
There is a clear-cut issue between the candidates in this election," said Hon. C. W. Cross, and he proceeded to point out exactly where the issues rested.

If ever Alberta was to become a great province, he said, it was necessary that agriculture should be given the opportunity to develop. At the last session several measures were passed which the government thought would be of great benefit to the farmers. Realizing that it was impossible to secure credit for farmers under the present banking system the government introduced an act known as the Cow Bill, which allowed five farmers to band together, and by their joint note to secure $500 each for the purchase of live stock.

Pointing out where the issue rested in this case, the speaker said that two months had elapsed since the act was passed, already thousands of these associations had been formed, and the province was asked to guarantee millions of dollars. Therefore it was for then now to say whether they wished a continuance of this policy. Mr. Tweedie, who was the real leader of the opposition, as Mr. Michener was not a forceful man, had obstinately opposed this act and here they had a clear-cut issue on this point.

SGT. DUNCAN MACNEIL OF THE CANADIANS

Says Dr. Cassell's Tablets Cured His Dyspepsia Completely.
Sergeant Duncan MacNeil, of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, writing from Europe (his home address is 116 Pleasant-street, Halifax, N.S.) says: "For six years I suffered from frequent attacks of dyspepsia, often being in bed for days at a time. When the war broke out I joined the Expeditionary Force and came to England. I had not been long there however, when my old trouble returned, and I had to go to hospital. While in hospital a friend told me of Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and I decided to try them. The first box brought such pronounced relief that I continued the treatment. To make a long story short a complete cure was effected."

A free sample of Dr. Cassell's Tablets will be sent to you on receipt of 5 cents for mailing and packing. Address: Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., 10 McCaul-st., Toronto.

Dr. Cassell's Tablets are the surest home remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Trouble, Sleeplessness, Anemia, Nervous Affections, Nerve Paralysis, Prolapsed Uterus and Weakness in Children. Especially valuable for nursing mothers during the critical periods of life. Sold by druggists and storekeepers throughout Canada. Price: One tube, 50 cents; six tubes for the price of five. Beware of imitations said to contain hypophosphites. The composition of Dr. Cassell's Tablets is known only to the proprietors, and no imitation can ever be the same. of the opposition, as Mr. Michener was not a forceful man, had obstinately opposed this act and here they had a clear-cut issue on this point.

Farm Loans
Referring to the Farm Loans Act, under which the government proposed to borrow ten millions and lend it out on blanket security at 4 1/2 percent interest, the speaker said that here again they wanted to know if they were on the right line in dealing with farm credits in this manner.

Coming to the Factory act, which he had the honor to introduce, in other provinces such an act merely meant safeguarding the lives and comfort of people at work, but they had gone further and introduced a law of wages. He was one of those who thought that they should have a universal eight-hour day. In the act they had defined the hours of labor, there was also a clause to enforce pay, God, when he created man, never intended he should work for less than that on which he could live. In Edmonton and Calgary, there had been hundreds of little girls working for less than two dollars per week, and there was an illustration of this in a recent police court case in Edmonton, where it was said that a girl was driven on to the streets because she could not earn enough to support herself. That story was a concrete instance of what the Factory act was meant to remedy. For under the act these girls must be paid a minimum wage upon which they could live.

Here again, said the speaker, was a direct issue, as Mr. Ramsey, one of the opposition candidates at Edmonton, went to the board of trade and asked them to oppose the act. He then read a letter from Sam Gompers, head of the labor party in the United States in which he expressed his appreciation of the act.

The speaker then referred to allegations made against him by Mr. Ramsey in connection with the prosecution of his campaign, and said that Mr. Ramsey and Mr. Michener went to Edmonton to address a Conservative convention. Out of the 50 present, 40 of them were civil servants of the Dominion government, and out of the remaining ten, eight were persons against whom he (the speaker) had had to take proceedings as bootleggers. Of the remaining two, one, a man named Brady, if the attorney general of British Columbia was not taking care of him Mr. Cross was doing so in Alberta.

Concluding the speaker said that there was never a more clear-cut issue than in the present campaign.

and if they were in favor of the legislation along the lines that was passed at the last session, then he asked them to endorse the principles contained in these acts.

Mrs. W. M. Davidson
"It is almost impossible for any woman to take part in the campaign at Calgary without being abused, threatened and intimidated by the Conservative party," said Mrs. W. M. Davidson, and she quoted the remarks of Mr. Hillock concerning the appearance of two ladies on the Liberal platform at Calgary with Premier Sifton that "it was the most brazen piece of effrontery that he had ever seen."

And it did not stop at abuse, said Mrs. Davidson. Two soldiers' wives at Calgary who had come forward to help had been told that if they did not desist that their children would be put in the children's shelter under the Children's Aid Society.

Mrs. Davidson added that this election was of the greatest importance to women. The Conservative party had always opposed the extension of the franchise, and although at one time she thought they were in favor of women suffrage, she was mistaken. They had reversed to type, or else had never got away from it. Women could not stand on the heights of independence, they had to get down to party issues and Mrs. Davidson pointed out that with 35,000 men enlisted out of the province, they had got to see that the dependents of these were cared for.

Work for Returned Soldiers
The speaker here detailed the great work that the government was doing at the Technical Institute at Calgary in the retraining for civil life of soldiers who had been partially disabled in the war. Here Alberta was dealing with three times as many men as any province from the Lake of the Woods to the Atlantic Ocean.

Referring to the apocryphal system of education in the province, she said that in this system of equal rights in the two sexes had been observed by the government.

Hon. A. G. MacKay
"It is always interesting to me," said the Hon. A. G. MacKay, "on the eve of an election to try to forecast the result. This election is a comparatively quiet one, with no great sentimental question to excite the people, and at first it was somewhat difficult to guess what they thought. But, believe me, there is no difficulty now. I have been right through the province, and everywhere they are talking of the measures that have been passed by the government, and what is a surer sign, they are going back and talking of the good that the Liberal government has done in the past."

"I have never known an election," went on the speaker, "where the electors were so united in a consensus of opinion that the Sifton government is working for the good of the common people all over the land."

The Hon. A. G. MacKay then alluded to the manifesto issued by Conservatives, and said that out of the most important department of government administration the word of criticism was mentioned which showed evidently that they approved of it.

As for the charge made by Dr. Sifton against the license department, Premier Sifton had said that it would give details and names he would have the accused persons arrested, but this offer was rejected. There was never more specious than these charges, added MacKay.

Mistakes in Manifesto
In this same manifesto, he went on, the provincial debt was given as instead of $15 per head. To go to the figures, the population of the province as given, the manifesto official census figures were $148,000. "Thus out of their mouths they are condemned," he marked.

"We are not treating our soldiers as they say," said Mr. MacKay, and then he proved that the government, on the basis of average election representation, was giving the representation not for 35,000 men, but for 42,000.

The meeting closed with the national anthem.

EDMONTON GOLF CLUB'S FIRST EVENT RESULTS IN DOUBLE TIE

Mountfield and Hunter Each Do Course in 76—Former and R. Matheson Tied at 74 For Best Net—Forty Entries In The Tournament and Great Interest Manifested.

There were forty entries in the open event of the newly organized Edmonton Golf Club, held on the 10th course Saturday, and the keen interest was manifested in the results. Play began about 10 o'clock in the morning, and thereafter a constant succession of pairs was making rounds of the links with varying fortunes. The event was a handicap play competition, the rather unusual circumstance of a tie being recorded in both the gross and net results.

Both A. E. Mountfield and J. M. Hunter (plus four) made the eighteen in 76 strokes. The former, by use of his handicap of two, had a net of 74, and R. Matheson, a 36 handicap man, by turning in a card of also achieved a net of 74. Mountfield and Matheson will have to play for the prize. The second best net was that of H. G. Forsen, who, handicapped at 16, stood at 77 in the net.

In account of its being so early in season a number of the veteran players have not settled down to their game, but some good cards were returned notwithstanding. The next event in the club's schedule is a team match, which will be played June 18th next. The scores of Saturday play were as follows:

Gross	Net
A. E. Mountfield.....76	74
H. G. Forsen.....77	77
H. L. Matheson.....74	74
J. M. Hunter.....76	74

Sporting Facts and Fancies

The Battle of Bunker Hill has been repeated many, many times between the first and the eighteenth hole.

The best battles of Bunker Hill are often repeated by the men—you know the kind of bunk they have on their fast ones.

Fact that Brooklyn doesn't win any pennants doesn't mean that there are no pennants won in Brooklyn.

Easy to understand why a Pittsburgher studies the calendar these days. He wants to take his vacation while the Pirates are home.

With two Chicago teams well p in the race, only thing a Windy City fan has to bother about is a violation of the neutrality code.

"The outlook wasn't brilliant for the Mudville nine this day." The question of who was the author of these lines has been asked more times than "Why is Halley's Comet?" and "When will the War end," and answered correctly about once out of every hundredth time. "Casey at the Bat" is one of the most popular bits of poetry that ever found its way to the sports page and was first printed in a San Francisco paper. The fascinating lines are the output of the fertile mind of Ernest L. Thayer, who, when they were first printed, resided in Worcester, Mass. The verses were widely copied and leaped into immediate prominence throughout the baseball world. His claim to the authorship was widely disputed. George Whitfield D'Ysa, Joseph Quinn Murphy and Will Valentine are among the dozen or so persons to whom Casey has been attributed. Valentine's claim was made by friends after his death in 1897. Much evidence was brought to bear in behalf of each claimant, but a shifting of this, however, resulted in a verdict for Thayer, and to him goes the credit. The first publication of the poem in the San Francisco paper was over the initials of "E. L. T." and it is a matter of record that the contributor was Mr. Thayer. Other claimants have been unable to produce a copy of any publication containing "Casey at the Bat" previous to June 4, 1888. So, it was just twenty-nine years ago that "Casey at the Bat" first warmed the heart of the American baseball public, and since it has been more generally quoted than any similar literary effort dealing with the game.

Mr. Thayer graduated from Harvard, and it was while he was a student at Harvard that he discovered "Mudville," a soggy ball field not far from Cambridge, where exciting contests were often played. Mr. Thayer was a member of the same class at Harvard as William Randolph Hearst and was later employed on the Hearst newspapers. He finally abandoned this pursuit of journalism for more profitable commercial activities. While "Casey at the Bat" was universally copied and read, much of its fame was originally due to De Wolf Hopper, who recited the verses at his performances all over the country.

WINNIPEG, June 3.—Winnipeg won a hard-fought contest from Warman here yesterday afternoon, 5 to 3, owing to their timely blinding in the fourth and eighth. The visitors nipped Stevenson, the locals' best heater, for four hits, but outside of the fourth and fifth could not get the hits when needed. There was some fast fielding on both sides, the pegging to the bases of Withrow for the visitors being noteworthy. Score:

COUNTRY POINTS INDICATE VICTORY FOR THE LIBERALS

Meeting of East End Liberals in Albion Hall—Duncan Answers Opponent.

Both Hon. A. G. MacKay and Hon. C. W. Cross, attorney general, speaking in Albion Hall on Saturday night gave encouraging reports regarding the outlook in the rural districts for the government. In their opinions the government will be returned with such a large majority as might induce the opposition by about five seats. J. W. Henderson, K.C., reiterated his challenge to the Conservative candidate in East Edmonton, to prove his charges of drunkenness at the convention of the attorney general at Edmonton. Mr. MacKay again challenged Mr. Ramsey to prove that he did not say in Calgary that the wholesalers should not give the retail merchants credit.

Applies to Charge
Fred Duncan, the Liberal candidate for East Edmonton devoted a great portion of his speech to answering charges made by his opponent. He pointed out that the Liberal candidate had the best of the control of the natural resources of the province from the Dominion government. In his opinion his opponent would not be elected and prophesied that Mr. Ramsey would get a worse shaking up on the 7th of June than he got when he failed to secure the nomination of the Conservative convention at Peace River. One argument used against him (Mr. Duncan), he said, was that he had not the business ability to represent the people. He admitted that Mr. Ramsey managed a large department store, but said that the small merchant must have bigger business ability to get along in a world so necessary to success as that of his opponent. Dealing with Mr. Ramsey's Calgary speech before the Credit Men's association recently, he stated that 75 per cent of the Liberal vote would have to close down if his opponent had his way in regard to credit matters.

In reference to the Dover act he pointed out that the Conservative arguments stated that the act left a lot to be desired. He would not say that it was perfect, but he ridiculed the stand of the opposition who said that the money of the estate to be divided evenly between husband and wife. "Well, if they want to bury the husband's half with him neither the widow nor the estate," he said. Continuing, he answered the charges of his opponent in regard to the premier's traveling expenses. "Do the people of Alberta want their premier to act as a tourist?" he asked. "If so, I would rather have him travel in a way that would not shame his office," declared the speaker.

Free Education
In his opinion the Conservative candidate is a worshiper of the type of financing that allowed the episode of J. W. Allison and the juggling in Manitoba and British Columbia. Free education for all classes of people is one of the planks in Mr. Duncan's platform and he says he is going to put all his strength behind a movement to get it whether he is elected or not.

He gave several examples of the manner of campaign being conducted against him which he said was typical. In one house the canvasser for the Conservative candidate stated that a vote for Duncan was a vote for the Germans and in the next house the lady was warned against Duncan because, the canvasser stated, he was against conscription. Three doors further on a widow who has one son supporting her was told that the Liberal candidate was in favor of conscription and by electing him, she would lose her only son.

In closing Mr. Duncan said: "I will maintain my position as a representative government and nothing more."

Repeats Challenge

J. W. Henderson, K.C., dealt at some length with the charges of Mr. Ramsey that liquor flowed fast and free at the convention of the attorney general at Edmonton. He stated that he was present at the convention and did not see one of the 1500 people there under the influence of liquor. He repeated his challenge of Friday night. He stated that he met Mr. Ramsey on the street on Saturday but the Conservative candidate did not make any offer of accepting the challenge. "I will take him singly and alone on any public platform in any town in this province and I will give him the lie," he declared.

Hon. C. W. Cross did not spend much time in answering the charge regarding liquor at his convention. He stated that the minister of the gospel who gave Mr. Ramsey the alleged rope on the case was sent to the constituency to oppose him and could only get twenty-five followers out of three hundred miners. This minister was recalled by his party. Mr. Cross pointed out that the apprentice clause was not contained in the Factory act when he laid it before the house. He promised that he would work for the introduction of a provincial-wide eight hours day in Alberta.

Hon. A. G. MacKay took up the financial situation in the province and showed clearly that the Conservatives were juggling with figures to support their arguments.

KING GORIN WON KENTUCKY DERBY BY NECK

John Schorr's Broomstick Colt Oudgel Was Close Second.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 3.—The 4-year-old Transval-Ethel Simpson colt, King Gorin, owned by R. L. Baker and Company, of Lexington, Ky., under a masterful ride by Jockey Mack Garner, and favored by a slight impost of 108 pounds, won the fifth renewal of the Kentucky handicap at Douglas Park here yesterday by a neck from John Schorr's 3-year-old Broomstick colt, Oudgel, before one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed the running of the stake. Half a length back was Andrew Miller's Roamer, which made his third try for the event. Boot, coupled in the betting with Ed. Crump as the A. K. M. member entry, finished fifth, beaten for the show money by two lengths. Old Rosebud, the 9 to 5 favorite, an Opportunity, finished in the rack after setting a terrific pace for half a mile.

The time of 2:04 1-5 for the mile and a quarter was remarkable considering the condition of the track, which was lumpy and slow.

King Gorin had to be ridden hard to win. Cudgel, but for his losing ground by going wide, might have won. They ran neck and neck from the head and of the stretch. The stake was worth $12,500 to the winner; $1,600 to second, $800 to third, while the fourth horse saved his fee.

Is Earnest Warning Vice-President Bury

Railway Heads Visit Edmonton on Inspection Trip—Canada and United States Must Bear Burden of Feeding Allies in Europe Says Mr. Bury—City Officials and Prominent Business Men Meet Visitors.

"Let us think of our being a nation invaded to think in terms of war rather than of peace," went on Mr. Bury, "but the realization must come home some time and the power of the press should be exercised to try and have the people impressed with the seriousness of the situation."

In the official party of Mr. Bury was Grant Hall, general manager of western lines of the C.P.R., J. A. Cameron, general superintendent of the Alberta division, H. R. Drummond-Hay, a son-in-law of Mr. Bury's and a lawyer of Winnipeg, and E. D. Aylen of Montreal, a nephew of the vice president and a young soldier who has just returned from France, where he was severely wounded.

Mr. Bury's officials were met on their arrival at the Hardisty local by Mayor Henry, Deputy Mayor Wilson, President Brown of the board of trade, Alderman Bush, Supt. Wroughton of the R.N.W.M.P., James Ramsey, Alderman MacDonald, and many other members of the board of trade. Superintendent MacGregor of the Edmonton division of the C.P.R., was in charge of the informal reception program, and at noon took the party out to Government House, where the guests were entertained by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor.

Mr. Bury and Mr. Hall are going over to the principal lines of the Canadian Pacific in the west, coming to Edmonton from Saskatoon and going south this afternoon to Calgary and Lethbridge prior to leaving for the coast.

After Twenty-seven Years of Suffering—Swelling and Puffiness Has Disappeared—Not a Pain or an Ache Left.

Kincardine, Ont., May 21.—A most astonishing cure of rheumatism and eczema has been reported here, and Mrs. Ray is enthusiastic in telling her many friends how cure was effected.

Rheumatism and eczema frequently go together, and in this case caused the most keen distress imaginable. All the swelling and puffiness resulting from many years of rheumatism have disappeared, and there is not a pain or an ache left.

Mr. G. H. Ray, R.R. No. 1, Kincardine, Ont., writes: "Mrs. Ray has been using your Kidney-Liver Pills, and she has had a most successful result. I was simply terrible what she suffered. I was sure she would try $1.00 worth of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and she is now on the last box, and let me tell you she scarcely knows herself, she is so free from both these diseases. All the swelling and puffiness caused by the rheumatism has gone away, and she has gone down in weight 18 1/2 pounds. She never has an ache nor pain, biliousness nor sick headache all these months. She often says herself 'How glad I am that I know what to do instead of paying doctors so much to make me worse.'"

There is only one way that the poisons in the blood can be cleaned away and the cause of pains and aches removed, and that is by the powerful action of the kidneys, liver and bowels. Because Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly and specifically on these organs and ensure their activity they remove the cause of rheumatism and other dreadfully painful and fatal diseases. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

MONDAY, JUNE 4, 1917.

The women of Alberta owe the privilege of voting for members of the Legislature to the Sifton administration; and they owe their right to participate in political decisions to their own refusal to be snuffed off the platform by opposition candidates.

When an Opposition try to do a "deal" with the Government to disregard the public, to add the term of the Legislature to stand together and draw it, it is time for the public to call that Opposition a smash will be remembered for all

Ewing told an audience on an evening "he was concerned that during their seven years of power the Sifton administration had played to vitalistic interests rather than common good and would leave office with no lit advantage to themselves." Ewing uses words to convey ideas he meant by this to convey the idea that the minister has been grafting. Has Mr. Ewing anything to prove that? why has he secreted it? If what does he think is the merit he deserves from people wish to treat the honor of men as they would that they should protect their good

The Journal tries to explain the reflection it cast upon Lieutenant-Governor of this Province in declaring that he has lost a Government "of the same character" as the late Roblin government. It says Lieutenant-Governor Cameron of Manitoba was that the Roblin Government was corrupt, but that it has been proven to Lieutenant-Governor Brett that the Sifton Government is dishonest. That is obvious. But did not Mr. Michener his friends put before Lieutenant-Governor Brett every scrap of evidence they had for saying that Sifton Government was dishonest?

Opposition candidates are wasting their time searching the records for facts to reveal to the men of the Province the attitude toward the cause of woman suffrage. All the facts the men need to define that attitude is the fact that the Opposition wanted the Government to franchise the women by extending the term of a Legislature they have no voice in electing, and the that Opposition candidates trying to insult and abuse the men off the platforms where official affairs are being discussed.

Mr. Michener's complaint is that the Government refused to franchise the electors and make his associates a Government-appointed Opposition. If Michener had started out to try the electors with reasons returning the Government to power and for defeating every Opposition member in the late Legislature he could hardly have done better than this. What proposition to public interests could be expected from an Opposition, expected office by grace of the Government and in virtue of a conspiracy? And what proposition to public interests could be expected in future from a parliamentarian who was willing to enter a conspiracy?

The Government majority in Parliament voted down a proposal to reduce the tariff and increase the British preference, and to thereby lessen the cost of living, divert to the public treasury part of the tariff benefits now going into the pockets of the manufacturing interests, and give the British manufacturer a favored chance against foreign manufacturers in the Canadian market. It was not for such purposes as these that the "Interests" made the Government.

Politics may or may not have played a part in bringing on the strike of Provincial telephone employees on the eve of a general election. Certainly Opposition newspapers have featured and embellished the strike news in a way intended to cultivate the sympathy of the strikers and to represent the Government as wrong in refusing their demands. The chief demand is for the recognition of the union. Do the Opposition stand for the recognition of unions among civil servants? Or are they only trying to humbug both the strikers and the public?

The census taken last summer shows that the population of the Province had then reached almost the half million mark, a growth in five years of slightly less than 122,000. This period included the three years preceding the war, and—counting the 30,000 of our citizens who were overseas when the census was taken—the increase of 150,000 in the population of the Province cannot be considered remarkable. Excluding the soldiers, who were drawn from both city and country, the return shows that the city population increased 41,000 in the five years, against an increase outside the cities of 81,000. The tendency is in the right direction, though the proportion of increase outside the cities is not as large as desirable.

To induce an influx of farm laborers, the Dominion Government's advertising in United States papers that men who come to Canada and work on farms during his summer will be allowed six months' residence on their homesteads. Thus, while the Southwestern and Opposition candidates are demanding that British citizens of enemy origin shall be disenfranchised, the Dominion Government is extending to United States citizens of enemy origin the privilege of absentee homesteading. If a United States citizen of enemy origin is so desirable as a resident of Alberta that he should be accorded the privilege of absentee homesteading, how comes it that British citizens of enemy origin are denounced as such doubtful characters that they should be disenfranchised?

Edmonton cannot "come back" until the settlement and development of the north country brings it back. The north country can never be settled and developed without railway construction; and railway construction cannot be secured without either guaranteeing bonds or borrowing money. Mr. Michener condemns alike the guaranteeing of bonds and the borrowing of money; and offers no alternative scheme for inducing the railway extension without which the peopling of the north and cannot be accomplished. So far as indicated by his published platform and his record in the House, his elevation to the Premiership would mean the end of railway construction in the north country. That being the case, the election of his candidates in Edmonton would be in condemnation of the policy that is filling the north country with people and a declaration for Government inaction which would perpetuate the stagnation from which the city has been suffering.

The only excuse yet offered by Mr. Michener for wanting the people of the province disenfranchised is that the country is at war. The fact that the country is at war would in itself be a sufficient reason for an election if there were no other. The conditions under which the election of 1913 were held have gone, and the issues then to the forefront are many of them dead. War conditions have introduced new problems, and given a new slant to public thought. The public have a right to demand that those problems shall be settled in accord with the thought of the public as it is today, not as it was in the days when war was not among the things contemplated as likely and when the conditions and results of war were not understood and could not be foreseen. Does anybody doubt, in the light of what has occurred, that the course of the Dominion Government would be more plain and the position of the Dominion less critical if the people had been given a chance to elect a new House of Commons qualified to express the opinions of the electors as shaped under war conditions and concerning war matters?

Perhaps the silliest, as well as the most shameless, piece of misrepresentation in the whole repertoire of the Opposition is this persistently repeated falsehood that the Sifton Government has disenfranchised the soldiers overseas. That, as Mr. Michener and his associates know, is exactly the reverse of truth. The Government prevented the soldiers and nurses overseas from being disenfranchised, by rejecting Mr. Michener's proposal. His plan was to allow the soldiers and nurses to vote—but only to vote for the candidates running in the constituencies from which they went. That, Sir Robert Borden has declared in Parliament, would amount actually to disenfranchising them, because, he says, it is impossible to take such a ballot under the conditions obtaining at the front. Under the Government's arrangement every soldier and nurse will have both the right to vote and the chance to vote; and will use their votes to elect two members who will represent their views and interests in the Legislature. Under Mr. Michener's scheme the soldiers and nurses from eleven constituencies would have been deprived of the right to vote, and—according to Sir Robert Borden—the others would have been denied a chance to vote, and any of them who did vote would have had to vote for civilian party candidates nominated in their absence, perhaps unknown to them, and not in any way recognized as representing them.

ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Bulletin to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner. To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the questioner. This information is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Naturalization Question.

To the Bulletin—Will you please answer the following questions: 1. If a British subject, woman, is married to a non-naturalized man, is she entitled to vote? 2. If a non-naturalized woman is married to a British subject, is she entitled to vote?

J. H. B.
1. No. 2. Yes. In every case according to the Federal Naturalization Act the wife takes the nationality of her husband.

France's Finis Record.

To the Bulletin: In your "answers" given on May 29th, I noticed one about the terms of the Franco-Russian war settlement. Regarding the indemnity of $1,000,000,000, here are exactly the facts: The 5,000,000,000 francs had to be paid inside of three years and German soldiers were to remain in France until it was all paid off.

The treaty of Frankfurt was ratified by the French parliament on the 10th of March, 1871. During July of the same year the government issued a loan for 2,000,000,000 francs, which was covered. The next year, another loan for 3,000,000,000 francs was covered fourteen times, and on September 16, 1872, the last German soldier left the French soil, that is, 18 months after the signature of the treaty. When France had been allowed 3 months.

Lien Note.

To the Bulletin: (1) Is there any sale for coyote pelts, and caught in the winter? (2) Why is the government paying a bounty on coyotes? (3) How many moose have been killed in northern Alberta? How many have been killed for killing female moose, and what were the headstamps?

D. M. Ponich, Andrew, Alta.
(1) Fur dealers in the city would pay pelts which are caught and preserved in prime condition. (2) The amount of damage to poultry and sheep done by coyotes urged upon the government the necessity of having a bounty placed on female coyotes, to encourage killing at a time when the pelts could not be sold to fur dealers. (3) This information can be obtained by writing to the Provincial Game Guardian, Edmonton.

Conscription.

To the Bulletin: Will you answer in your valuable paper to settle an argument whether the old saying, "school teachers are the last class to be taken in war," is correct if conscription takes place in Canada. J.S. So far as the announcement up to the present have gone conscription will first apply to single men of certain ages, probably between 20 and 40.

Inquirer from Millet.

To the Bulletin: These kind of want ads are very satisfactory. Write Advertising Department, the Bulletin.

Weed Eradication.

To the Bulletin: (1) Why is the problem of noxious weed eradication so difficult in Alberta? (2) Kindly give a list of things on which there is no duty between the United States and Canada.

I. C. Camrose.
(1) The field products in Alberta are mostly small grains, that is, grain which cannot be cultivated during the growing season. Therefore under ordinary circumstances the weeds sprout in the spring and mature more quickly in the fall than the grain. The problem is a most serious one in the province and cannot be dealt with in detail in this column. (2) Such a list could be obtained by communicating with the federal government at Ottawa.

CHILD IMMIGRATION

LONDON, June 2.—(C.A.P.)—An important convention regarding child immigration was held here this week. Bruce Walker, Canadian immigration commissioner, appealed specially for children of 6 to 12 years, receiving the assurance of the conference that all organizations represented at the convention would co-operate with the Dominion government in sending Canadian a vast increase in the number of children of such age.

CAPT. MORROW OF
SOUTH SIDE DIES
SERVING EMPIRE

Well-known Resident of Edmonton,
Recently With Foresters,
Succumbs to Disease

People of the south side were grieved Friday to learn of the death overseas of Captain Ernest Morrow, who left Edmonton with the 151st Battalion, and who was one of the best known and generally respected residents in that section of the city which was formerly Strathcona. The news of Captain Morrow's death was cabled to Alderman H. B. Douglas from Captain Hugh Calder, now with the Foresters in the north of Scotland. From this information it appears that Captain "Ernie" succumbed to some ailment contracted after going overseas, he having been transferred from the 151st to the Foresters and going to Scotland where he died. The deceased soldier was of fine physique and was recognized as one of the best officers in the 151st, he having been captain of dragoons at his native town of St. Andrews, Quebec, before coming to Alberta and Strathcona in 1907. In this city he became universally well liked during his many years of residence, being at one time employed with the provincial government and after entering into the real estate business with E. Prothero, now a sergeant in the 202nd battalion. Captain Morrow was a cousin of Mrs. Peter McLaughlin, whose husband died gallantly with the 48th in the heavy fighting of Hooge one year ago. He had no other relatives in the west, two sisters residing in the east, one in Ontario and one in Quebec.

LEGAL INQUIRIES

Legal questions will be answered in the columns of The Bulletin, after being submitted to The Bulletin's own legal representatives. Write on one side of the paper only. Brief. Send stamped envelope for reply.

Registering Lien Note.
To the Bulletin Legal Dept.—Will you please inform me where to register a lien note and the fees on a lien note of $150.

J. C. G. Riviere Qui Barre.
A lien note should be registered at the Clerk of the Court's office in the registration district in which the purchaser lives or if the goods were delivered in another registration district the lien note must be registered in that registration district. If the purchaser lives at Riviere Qui Barre the note will have to be registered at the court house, Edmonton, as Riviere Qui Barre is in the Athabasca judicial district.

With The Humorists

Too Old to Learn.
"But couldn't you learn to love me, Stella?" he pleaded.
"I don't think I could, Frank," she replied.

He stood erect, then quickly reached for his hat. "It is as I feared—you are too old to learn."

Quickly Changed.
"When I saw Smith last he was growing over his new car." "When I saw him last he was growing under it."

Low Time Is Wasted.
"Time is precious," said the parson, "it is indeed," rejoined the business man, "and I've wasted an awful lot of it."

"By indulging in foolish pleasures," I suppose," suggested the good man. "Not exactly," replied the other. "I wasted most of it by being punctual in keeping my appointments with others."

CONSCRIPTION AGE IS NOW SAID TO BE 20 TO 45

Ottawa, June 2.—The Government, it is stated, has finally decided upon the question of maximum and minimum ages of those who will be called upon to register for conscription. The ages are between 20 and 45. It is stated that 10 classes are specified in the bill.

Bulletin's Mail Bag

Letters on subjects of current or general interest will be published in this column. Each letter must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer, but such information will be treated as confidential if desired. Correspondents should remember that brevity is at all times desirable.

DR. MACDONALD'S WORK AT MILITARY HOSPITAL

In reference to a letter in the Bulletin on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, Dr. Clyde Macdonald asks the Bulletin to state that he has been a member of the Canadian Army Medical Corps for over a year and that his salary was $1500 per month up till May 1st, and not $2000 per month, as stated, for which service he gives two hours daily at the hospital. For his duties following May 1st, when the work was taken over by the C.A.M.C., Dr. Macdonald says his salary has not been announced.

ALBERTA LIEUT. REPORTED KILLED

Lieut. Evans Went to France With Alberta Dragoons in First Contingent

London, June 2.—(C.A.P.)—Lieut. Henry Cape Evans, of the Flying Corps, missing since September, 1916, now reported killed, formerly was in fruit farming in Ontario and later served with the Canadian artillery in South Africa. He returned to ranching in Alberta, and also was a government range rider. He joined the Alberta Dragoons and went to France with the first contingent. He was awarded the D.S.O. in September, 1916, and mentioned in despatches in January, 1917.

Great West Garment Co. Girls Resent Attacks Made Upon Them

Those Who Are Regularly Employed, They Say, Earn Ample to Provide Good Living, and Many Also Support Relatives—Are Paid at Union Scale Fixed by Themselves.

The girls who are employed at the Great West Garment Company factory are greatly disturbed over attacks made upon them during the past few days by the political campaign and have asked the Bulletin to publish the following statement:

To the Public—In view of the many untrue statements that have recently been made in political speeches, in the press and even in one pulpit, about working conditions and wages in the Great Western Garment Company's factory, and in view of the fact that these statements appear to be getting farther and farther from the truth as they are repeated, until it is now impossible to believe them without concluding that all of the employees are paid less than a living wage, and that they are forced to supplement their earnings, we feel that we can no longer allow such untrue and scandalous imputations against our characters to pass without setting the facts in our own defense.

We who are regularly employed here earn ample to provide a good living, and many of us contribute to the support of relatives. There are widows among us who support themselves and as many as six children out of their earnings.

Our experience shows that any girl of ordinary intelligence, who is physically fit, can earn nine dollars a week, and higher than that amount is generally due to laziness or inattention.

We are paid on a union schedule prepared by ourselves and approved by the International Garment Workers' Union, and it is calculated that operators should earn ten to twelve dollars per week on this schedule after six months' experience. This schedule is higher than the schedule in force in Eastern Canada.

The company furnishes instructors to teach us our trade, and provides working conditions that are both safe and pleasant.

The case of one unfortunate girl who was recently picked up by the police as a street-walker, and who was at one time employed here for a couple of weeks, has been held up to

Adventures of Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Galt

Uncle Wiggily and His Coat

Copyright 1917, by McClure News Paper Syndicate.

"Well, I suppose you are going on guard duty in your soldier trench, or ditch, in front of your tent tonight, are you not?" asked Nurse Jane Fussy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper for Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, as she waved "Hello!" to him one morning from the hollow stump bungalow.

Uncle Wiggily himself was marching up and down in front of his tent, where he had stayed all night, being on guard or awake part of the dark hours, to make sure the mosquito bug enemy did not come and carry him off.

"Yes," he answered Nurse Jane, "I expect to do guard duty tonight. I will march up and down in my trench, or ditch, into which the mosquitoes cannot throw stones at me. But why do you ask?"

"Because I have a little surprise for you," went on the muskrat lady. "See, I have made for you a long overcoat, such as the real soldiers wear when they are on guard. It must get cold in the night, especially about 12 o'clock, and if you wear this coat you will not be chilly."

"That's fine! Thank you!" cried Uncle Wiggily as he saw the coat the muskrat lady nurse had made for him. It was long, reaching down almost to his heels, and it had a big collar, which could be turned up around the rabbit gentleman's neck. It did not cover his ears, for they were very tall (if you remember his picture), and it would have taken a whole overcoat and part of another one, to say nothing of a collar, to have covered Uncle Wiggily's ears.

"Put it on and let me see how it fits," said Nurse Jane. "I made it from your last year's fur coat, and it may want a little changing."

But it didn't—not a bit. It fitted Uncle Wiggily just like a postage stamp on a letter, and he looked in it.

"I'll wear it tonight when I go on guard duty," he said. Thank you very much, Nurse Jane. "I will wear it tonight when I go on guard duty," he said. Thank you very much, Nurse Jane. "I will wear it tonight when I go on guard duty," he said. Thank you very much, Nurse Jane.

"Do you mean fall in the ditch?" asked laughing Jollie Longtail, the mouse boy.

"Nonsense!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I mean fall in line; or get in line to march."

So the animal boys marched back and forth, sometimes up and down, and sometimes in the middle, learning to be soldiers to fight the mosquito enemy.

"Well, I guess that will be all today said Uncle Wiggily, after he had passed out peanut oolipops to the animal chaps. "I'll go on guard in my new coat tonight, and tomorrow we will drill again."

So that night, after supper, Uncle Wiggily marched up and down in his trench ditch, wearing his military overcoat, which Nurse Jane had gnawed for him out of a cornstalk.

Oh, please excuse me. That's Uncle Wiggily's red, white and blue striped rheumatism chaps; isn't it? Well, he did not need that now, being a brave soldier. So he wore the coat Nurse Jane had made for him out of cloth.

But, somehow or other, it grew very warm that night. Uncle Wiggily marching up and down in the trench, first turned down the collar of his coat. Then he unbuttoned it. Finally he said:

"I guess I'll have to take it off all together, it's so hot. I'll hang it up, on the handle of the rake I used to dig my trench with."

So, hanging his coat up on the rake, the handle of which was stuck in the ground, and draping the arms over the two iron ends of the garden tool, Uncle Wiggily marched up and down in more comfort.

The night grew warmer and warmer. And, as might be expected, it was warm in the swamp where the mosquito enemy lived. They flew up from the marsh, buzzing and bizzing, and the captain called:

"What ho, my Merry Men! Tonight will be a good time to capture Uncle Wiggily. I think he is sure to be asleep and dreamy tonight, and we can grab him and fly away with him. Come on to capture that rabbit soldier!"

"Buz! Buz! We're with you!" said the biting bugs. Off they flew to the trench where Uncle Wiggily was on guard in front of his tent near his hollow stump bungalow.

"Halt!" whispered the mosquito captain.

All the flying insects stopped flitting their wings.

"There he is! I see him!" said a young lieutenant mosquito next to the captain. "See, he is standing in the trench. How still he is. He must be asleep."

"He is," said the captain, "and before he awakes we will capture him. Advance! Captain Uncle Wiggily Longears!"

Down buzzed the mosquitoes, but it was only Uncle Wiggily's coat, hanging over the rake with the arms stretched out like those of a scarecrow, which the bugs saw. About fourteen million of them grabbed hold of it, and then, with a great buzzing of their wings, they flew with the empty coat, thinking they had Mr. Longears.

"Here, come back with that!" cried the bunny from the far end of the trench, as he heard the mosquitoes buzzing. Let my nice coat, that Nurse Jane made for me, alone!"

"What! Have we only captured his coat?" cried the captain mosquito.

"Oh, dear! Bad luck!"

But it was good luck for Uncle Wiggily, as the biting bugs dropped his coat back in the trench, and he put it on. So the mosquitoes did not get him after all, and if the coat shovel doesn't go out in the snow bank and take the pennies away from the little girl, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the cannon.

Letters to Uncle Tom

Trapped Muskrats

Dear Uncle Tom—This is my first letter to your interesting club. I like your club and the Uncle Wiggily stories very well. Uncle Wiggily is certainly a great adventurer. Your club is also growing very fast.

Our teacher is going to let our grade promote from grade seven to grade eight in June. I transfer 70 muskrats last fall and get about $200 for them.

LARS PAULSON, Bawit.

Member from Millet

Dear Uncle Tom—Have you room for another new piece in your Aladdin club? I am going to write and send you some of my farm three miles west of Millet. I have a little garden all my own, but it is not large. I planted two rows of sweet peas and some poppies.

FAYRIE ROOF, Millet, Alta.

Has Left Public School

Dear Uncle Tom—I have been reading the different letters to your interesting club. But have not had enough courage to write before. I took my grade VIII examinations last year and was successful in passing. I received my diploma and I was very glad because next fall I am going to try and go to high school. Uncle Tom asks what we are going to be. I am going to be a teacher. I am 15 years old.

LUCILE N. HOVLAND, Holden.

Thirty-Three in School

Dear Uncle Tom—I am nine years old and go to school. I am in grade three. There are thirty-three children in our school. I live in the farm 25 miles from Wetaskiwin. We have a hundred and twenty small chickens. I have seen many birds this spring.

AGNES LINDBLOOM.

Saw Big Fire

Dear Uncle Tom—This is my first letter to your club. I always read the Uncle Wiggily stories. I like them fine. I am going to live in the farm 25 miles from Millet. I have a little garden all my own, but it is not large. I planted two rows of sweet peas and some poppies.

BLANCHE BURCH, Glenora, Alta.

Caught 100 Gophers

Dear Uncle Tom—I am going to school every day. I have not missed a day from school. I go to school every day. I have a good time. We play with football and basketball. I have a good time. I caught 100 gophers and 25 muskrats.

MIKE HUELLAK, Shandro, Alta.

Wrote to School

Dear Uncle Tom—I should like to become a member. I go to school every day. I am in grade eight, and I have a mile and a half to walk. I have three brothers and two sisters. How many of the members made a garden? We have a school garden at home this year. We have seven horses and twenty-two head of cattle.

EDNA SHOWMAN, Alliance, Alberta.

Using the Typewriter

Dear Uncle Tom—I am much interested in your club and thought I would drop you a letter. I go to school every day. I have a good time. I caught 100 gophers and 25 muskrats. I have a good time. I caught 100 gophers and 25 muskrats.
